Beth Flynn
UN1001, Reading, Writing, and Speaking Lives
Fisher 125
T, Th 9:35-10:50
Fall, 2001
Office: 303 Walker
Office phone: 487-3227
E-mail: eflynn@mtu.edu
Office Hours: T, Th 11-12:30 and by appointment

Texts:

Supplies:

You'll need a file folder to hold your portfolio of journal entries, drafts, critique sheets, and graded papers. I'll bring in some used ones if you'd prefer not to buy a new one. I will be collecting in-class journal entries at the end of each class period. I will collect drafts and critique sheets on the day formal essays are due and graded essays shortly after they are returned. Please have the file folder by Thursday of week one.

Purpose:

The course will involve investigating the relationship between lived experience and the activities of reading, writing, and speaking by examining autobiographies of successful readers, writers, and speakers and by writing and speaking about challenges to students' own literacy development.

Writing Assignments:

Journal:

For each class session in which there are assigned readings, you will be asked to write one or more in-class journal entries. The entries will provide you an opportunity to reflect on the material you have read and to record your reactions in a focused way. These entries are not formal and need not be polished or well organized. The act of writing should stimulate you to make connections you might not previously have made.

E-Mail Message:

Once during the term you should put an observation about course readings, class discussion, or presentations on e-mail. The observation can also be something you read or observed that is pertinent to the course. The list will be set up so that it can go to the entire list if you send it to eflynn1001-I@mtu.edu or to me if you send it to eflynn@mtu.edu. Please note that "I" is the twelfth letter of the alphabet rather than the number one. The message should be at least a screen long.
Formal Writing:

Three formal papers will be required.

The first is a four-page essay (approximately 1,000 words) in which you describe your own literacy development. Focus on present or past practices, on reading or writing for pleasure, on technical reading or writing, or on the relationship between your reading or writing and your use of electronic communication. Try to provide a larger context for your analysis. Some questions to consider are: How did you learn to read or write? How has your reading or writing changed over the years? How does what you read or write affect how you read and write? What social/economic/political factors affect how you read or write? Be sure to make some references to course readings in your essay. How does your reading differ from that of others?

The second is a four-page (approximately 1,000 words) analysis of a biography or autobiography that focuses specifically on reading or writing but has not been assigned in class. The essay should focus on topics such as the following: the ways in which the authors or subjects use reading and writing, the situations in which they read and write, the textual media they employ, the various ways the texts they read and write function; the authority of the texts they read and write, and their access to reading and writing and to various textual media. You may also focus on reading or writing acquisition, development, or competence.

The third is a four-page (approximately 1,000 words) comparison of two or more essays that focus on reading, writing, or speaking. Describe the essays. What are their underlying arguments? What assumptions about literacy do they make? Which one is the more convincing? Why? What are some strengths and limitations of the two? How do they connect up with the autobiographies we read?

Portfolio Analysis

Please prepare a portfolio analysis (at least a page long) that provides a commentary on journal entries, drafts and critique sheets, and final papers. What are some strengths of your performance on these assignments? What are some limitations?

Presentations:

You will have an opportunity to present essays # 1, 2, and 3 in four-minute presentations. The presentation should be based on the paper you have submitted but should be tailored for oral delivery. Please use at least one overhead that provides an outline of your paper and a thesis statement. Please include a paper copy of the outline and thesis statement with your paper.

Attendance:

Attendance is mandatory. Much of the course involves conversation about course readings. If you miss those conversations, you will have missed a good deal of the course content. More than three unexcused absences will affect your grade.

Late Papers:

Since the course emphasizes the revision process and since it is important that presentations be based on finished essays, drafts and final essays must be submitted on time. Late papers will affect your grade.

Grades:

Your grade will be based on the following:
Journal, e-mail, critiques, portfolio 10 %
Presentation # 1 10 %
Presentation # 2 10 %
Presentation # 3 10%
Formal essay # 1 20 %
Formal essay # 2 20 %
Formal essay # 3 20%

Criteria for Evaluation:

A Papers and Presentations:
The author makes an original contribution so that the reader becomes involved and learns from the piece or presentation. The central point of the essay is clear, and the parts of the essay have been connected effectively. The outline for the presentation is correct in form and effective. Support for the point is appropriate for the intended audience and convincing. The reader's or listener's needs have been taken into consideration. There are few if any errors.

B Papers and Presentations:
The writing or speaking is clear, but the contribution does not seem especially original or new. The central point is clear, but the parts of the essay or talk could be connected more effectively. Support for the point is adequate for the intended audience and fairly convincing. The reader's or listener's needs have been taken into consideration to an extent. There are some errors.

C Papers and Presentations:
Takes some effort on the part of the reader or listener to get through the essay or talk. The paper or talk does not have a strong focus, and it is not always clear how the parts support the thesis. Support for the point is not especially appropriate for the intended audience and not especially convincing. The reader's or listener's needs have not always been taken into consideration. There are a number of errors.

D Papers and Presentations:
The reader or listener cannot figure out what point the writer or speaker is trying to make. The central point is not at all clear, and the parts do not support it. Support for the point is inappropriate for the intended audience and not convincing. The reader's or listener's needs have not been taken into consideration. There are many errors.

F Papers and Presentations:
The paper or talk does not respond to the assignment at all or has not been handed in or presented.

Other:
When papers are returned, most papers will have a letter grade on them. If you receive a grade lower than A, you may revise the essay and submit it no later than two weeks after it is returned. A few papers, though, will have an "R" on them. This means that the paper must be revised within two weeks of the time the paper was returned, and only the revision will be graded. I will usually suggest that individuals who receive Rs see me before revising. Please include the original paper with the revision!

Remember that formal essays should have titles. Please leave at least an inch margin on the sides and top and bottom of the paper and remember to number the pages on papers. Label all work. Include your name, my name, the course number and time, the date, and the course assignment. Be sure to indicate if the paper is a draft, a formal paper, or a revision.

MTU complies with all federal and state laws and regulations regarding discrimination, including the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA). If you have a disability and need a reasonable accommodation for equal access to education or services at MTU, please call Dr. Gloria Melton, Associate Dean of Students (7-2212). For other concerns about discrimination, you may contact your advisor, department head or chair, or the Affirmative Action Office (3310).

It may be necessary to alter the syllabus as the quarter proceeds in order to better meet the instructional needs of the class.

Plagiarism--using the ideas or words of others without acknowledging the source--is unethical and a violation of University policy. Plagiarism cases will be handled by Steve Tyrell, Associate Dean of Student Affairs. Some consequences of plagiarism could be failure of a paper or course. The University has subscribed to an anti-plagiarism service that can detect plagiarized material. If you have questions about the proper way to cite the ideas of someone else, please see me.

The Writing Center, located on the north side of the first floor of the Walker building, has coaches available to assist with reading, writing, or speaking assignments. Coaches can provide assistance on a regular basis if an appointment is made early in the term or on a walk-in basis.

Course Schedule:

Week 1 (August 28-30)

T Introduction
Th Douglass, pp. 25-71.

Week 2 (September 4-6)

T Douglass, pp. 71-145.
Th Malcolm X, Ch. 1-5

Week 3 (September 11-13)

T Malcolm X, Ch. 6-11; proposal for essay # 1 due
Th Malcolm X, Ch. 12-15

Week 4 (September 18-20)

T Malcolm X, Ch. 16-19; draft of essay # 1 due
Th Malcolm X, Epilogue.

Week 5 (September 25-27)

T Essay # 1 due; presentations.
Th Presentations.

Week 6 (October 2-4)
T Dillard, pp. 3-85.
Th Dillard, pp. 86-173.

Week 7 (October 9-11)
T Dillard, pp. 174-255.
Th McCourt, Ch. 1-11.

Week 8 (October 16-18)
T McCourt, Ch. 12-22. Proposal for essay # 2 due.
Th McCourt, Ch. 23-34.

Week 9 (October 23-25)
T McCourt, Ch. 35-42. Draft of essay # 2 due.
Th McCourt, Ch. 43-56.

Week 10 (October 30-November 1)
T Essay # 2 due. Presentations.
Th Presentations

Week 11 (November 6-8)
Th Lim, Part II.

Week 12 (November 13-15)
T Lim, Part III.
Th Lim, Part III.

Week 13 (November 27-29)
T Walker, pp. 1-74. Proposal for essay # 3 due
Th Walker, pp. 77-166.

Week 14 (December 4-6)
T Walker, pp. 169-250. Draft of essay # 3 due

Week 15 (December 11-13)
T Essay # 3 due
Th Conclusion; portfolio analysis.