Course Description/Overview
This course is for persons who have completed Chinese Level II-A or have the equivalent proficiency in Chinese. This course further explores Chinese language, culture, social values so that students can develop their understandings of essential Chinese cultural behaviors. Students will learn how to function successfully in Chinese culture using Chinese. This course will familiarize students with written Chinese, and practical use of Chinese. In class, students will also be exposed to authentic materials such as video clips and pictures showing the real cultural life of the Chinese people. Students will be expected to perform in listening, speaking, reading and writing Chinese at the level of proficiency appropriate for continuing on to the higher levels of Chinese which will be offered in the following semesters. Students will be given a schedule of events for one or two weeks in advance. Students’ job is to be prepared to perform in class as indicated on the schedule. If you do not understand what the schedule is asking you to do, it is your responsibility to seek clarification. Instructors reserve the right to make changes in the schedule or course requirements and evaluation as necessary.

Course Learning Objectives
The focus of Level II-B Chinese continues to help you develop basic ability to read and write in Chinese. This course also continues to train you to function successfully in Chinese culture using Mandarin as your primary language. We assume that you are interested in interacting with Chinese people in a way that will permit you to pursue professional goals in some segment of a Chinese society. At the end of the course, you will be expected to perform in speaking, listening, reading and writing Chinese at a level of proficiency appropriate for continuing on to the next course in the sequence. You should also demonstrate a level of cultural understanding suitable for correct performance of assigned tasks in Chinese.

This means that we will pay attention to the way you behave as much as we attend to your use of the language. This is a long-term process, but we will get to it right away. In order to do this, you will have to PERFORM.
Course Policies

Your grades in the course are determined by classroom performance. The reasons for this emphasis are many, but the main reason is that we are convinced that if you follow the program with consistency and persistence, you will develop significant demonstrable skills in Chinese by the end of the course. Daily performance on the activities assigned in the weekly schedule will be graded on the following four-point scale unless indicated otherwise:

4 = Performance that promise interaction with a native with no difficulty, discomfort, or misunderstanding; no hesitation noise in speaking and no “foreignisms” in the written work.
3.5 = Performance comprehensible to native speakers, but with some non-patterned errors that hinder smooth interaction with them.
3 = Performance comprehensible to a native, but with evident weakness or patterned error
2.5 = Communication requires much help from interlocutor.
2 = Performance puts burden on interlocutor. To facilitate communication, a native English speaker would avoid using Chinese with you.
1.5 = Barely prepared with little competency
1 = Evidently unprepared, unable to perform
0 = Absent

If you are 10 minutes late or more, one point will be deducted from the daily score.

Makeup Policy

If you must miss class, please let us know in good time if possible. You will be allowed to make up only ONE missed class. You may not redo classes in which you performed poorly. The make-ups will be conducted by the instructors during their office hours or by appointment and will cover the work missed. Make-ups are to be arranged within two days of your return to class; missed classes which are not made up within the above time frame or which exceed three in number will be entered as zeroes in your grade record. If you make an appointment outside of the instructor’s office hours and do not show up within ten minutes of the appointed time, you will not be allowed to make it up. If you come to class and leave before class starts this will count as an attendance, you will receive one point, and you will not be allowed to make it up. It is vital that you maintain communication with us if you miss class. There will be no makeups during final exam week.
